

LUTHER G. BROWN EXPRESSED HIS OPINION GALLAGHER ARRANGED DYNAMITING OF HIS OWN HOME

Recies on Witness Stand Story Told Him by "Big Jim's" Neighbor--Attorney Barrett Says Heney Is Trying to Make a Dreyfus Case, a Judicial Farce

SAN FRANCISCO, May 25.—The dynamiting of the home of James L. Gallagher in Oakland, on April 22, 1908, was the chief subject of investigation at the morning session of the trial of Patrick Calhoun, president of the United Railroads, with Luther G. Brown, who was recently tried and convicted on a charge of kidnapping the editor of the Bulletin, on the witness stand.

The witness testified that when the house occupied by the former chairman of the supervisors was blown up he had employed a photographer to take views of the damaged residence. His further investigations, he said, led him to believe that the dynamiting was arranged by Gallagher himself or by J. Schenck, his brother-in-law, who was an occupant of the house.

Some new evidence was added to the session by Attorney Barrett, who objected to Heney's examination and who said:

"The district attorney is trying to make this case like the Dreyfus case, the judicial farce of the age."

Today's Session

Fencing back and forth with his examiner, answering directly and often cuttingly, every question put to him, and retorting his better knowledge, in connection with the dynamiting of the home of "Big Jim" Gallagher, Attorney Luther Brown was interrogated by Special Prosecutor Francis J. Heney this morning.

The blowing up of the chief boulder's house was the first subject of inquiry, and it seemed indeed as though that matter was the main topic under investigation.

Comparing the testimony given by Detective Tom Gibson, Brown gave it as his opinion that a man named Schenck, a brother-in-law of Gallagher, and Detective William J. Burns knew a great deal about the dynamiting episode.

Wilhelm's Bombs

In responding to a query by Heney as to why he had investigated the affair, he explained:

"I learned that some time prior to that occurrence, Mr. Burns employed a man by the name of Macey to employ another man, Wilhelm, to make dynamite bombs in Oakland, representing that I was the man for whom the bombs were to be made, and that he would bring me to see you if I would pay him $500."

"Mr. Macey or Mr. Wilhelm came over here with fake bombs filled with soap. I think, as analyzed by the city chemist, there was no explosive."

"Oh, I talk about anything," replied Heney. "It's not a sin pool to have a lot of people come down into me. If you tell me what you want I'll try to tell you about it."

He testified further that in a conversation with Josephine, the wife of the Claudians brothers, had been brought up that he had never met either of them, and had never heard the name of Feitknecht until he read it in the newspaper.

Korngold on Stand

When Brown first took the witness chair, he told of having had a talk with Detective Holmes at the Hotel Belmont in San Jose, where he had paid him $500 by order of General Tracy L. Ford, to be used in the investigation. According to the gemsho man, who also claims he worked for both sides, was called.

He was the detective whom it will be remembered made copies of his reports while employed by the United Railroads, and turned them over to Burns. He was also called several weeks ago for running away on the street with a revolver pursuing his wife, who was fleeing from him in terror.

He related that he had received records from Platt, and turned them over to Abbott, sometimes in court, and occasionally at his office, Oak and Broderick streets.

He told of having received a letter from a client named Harry Johnson, who knew Mr. Warner, who lived in back of Gallagher's house, the rear yards facing each other, with an alley between. Warner was the host of Gallagher in the rear at night, and was the one who heard the explosion occurred. He rushed toward "Big Jim's" yard, and met either the latter or Mr. Schenck, his brother-in-law, and was told to go away, to keep out. He then returned to his own home.

The witness stated also that Johnson had made a personal investigation, and had directly appealed to him to rebuild the residence. In the meantime he had found a book evidently belonging to Mr. Schenck, dealing with explosives.

Done for Purpose

"You were inclined to the belief, then, questioned Heney, 'that someone inside had something to do with it'?"

"I was pretty well satisfied in my own mind that that was the case."

"And you think it was done for a purpose?"

"Oh, yes; things like that are usually done for a purpose."

$50 Prize

"For best article on 'Why a 10-Acre Farm Is a Better Investment Than a City or Suburban Lot.' We will give a certificate (transferable) for $50.00, to be applied on purchase of one of our Glenn county farms."

Replies will be submitted to Mr. R. L. Woods of the State Board of Trade. Send letters to:

the supervisors had been paid money in that way?"

"I had no copy right on the opinion. There were a great many other people who had the same opinion."

"Is that all you investigated?"

"No. I investigated the report that Longman was receiving $50 a week from an electric light company."

Ovverrules Protest

"Now, your honor," protested Attorney King, as Heney was about to frame another objection, "I move to stop this method of examining." Heney said nothing.

"We take issue with your honor in that matter," interjected Attorney Stanley Moore. "We think it is a matter that concerns us that our time should thus be taken up."

"It is none of your business how long the case occupies," declared the court.

"I beg leave to make an observation," interposed Attorney Moore. "I think from time immemorial it has been the practice of counsel in the court where they think unnecessary time is being consumed to call it to the attention of the court, and to incorporate it in his objection."

Heney inquired as to whether the witness had heard of J. C. Brown, a detective, lately, retelling a negative reply.

The prosecutor averred he had had a man looking for him armed with a subpoena for several days in Los Angeles.

Adjournment until 2 p.m.

Afternoon Session

Special Prosecutor Francis J. Heney made an unusual attempt to introduce the subject of the Burns raid on Calhoun's office during the afternoon session. Luther Brown was on the stand, and called to testify and deposing that he had been exploded by him, and that he had suffered financially from the dynamiting of the building.

"Don't you know that the offense of blowing up a man's house is punishable by life imprisonment in the penitentiary?"

"Yes, sir."

" Didn't you think it was your duty as an attorney to make some further investigation regarding that matter personally?"

Done for Purpose

"I'm not a detective, Mr. Heney, and I understand that my wife, Mrs. Schenck, would doubtless find out about it."

The witness explained that he understood that neither Mr. Gallagher nor Mr. Schenck had suffered financially from the dynamiting, as the building was owned by the man who had the first note.

Witness Objects

"I thought they were being able to receive papers from Van Wernier regarding private matters."

"Did you ever receive from Van Wernier any papers or documents from Mr. Burns?" asked Heney.

"We object to that as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial, no foundation laid, too remote, and not pertinent to any issue," protested Moore.

"Objection overruled," said the court.

Yesterday's Session

SAN FRANCISCO, May 25.—When THE TRIBUNE went to press yesterday afternoon Justice Disbrow Hewart, manager of the Hartford Free Insurance Co., had just been called to the witness stand in the Calhoun trial. He had had nothing to do with the arrangement of the Burns dynamiting and was quickly dismissed.

"He could not remember having sent word to Heney by Golden M. Roy at any time that he was no longer in the employ of the Hartford Free," he said.

He admitted having had several talks with Mr. Calhoun and to having shown him the documents and evidence which pertained to the Court. He claimed that he was employed as an attorney by Mr. Calhoun personally, and by "the United Railroads."

"He could not remember having sent word to Heney by Golden M. Roy at any time that he was no longer in the employ of the Hartford Free," he said.

He testified further that in a conversation with Josephine, the wife of the Claudians brothers, had been brought up that he had never met either of them, and had never heard the name of Feitknecht until he read it in the newspaper.

MANIAC ESCAPES SHERIFFS IN PURSUIT

Charles Boyle Who Caused Reign of Terror in San Rafael Free

SON OF MILLIONAIRE AND CONFESSIONED CRIMINAL

With Announcement of Escape Comes Report of Trouble Between Parents

SAN RAFAEL, May 25.—On the heels of the news that Charles Boyle, son of millionaire Hugh Boyle, escaped yesterday from the Gardner sanatorium at Belmont, where he has been confined since it has been learned that he had committed atrocious crimes while at large, came the information that Mrs. Boyle, the boy's mother, is about to seek a divorce from her wealthy husband. Mrs. Boyle lives in San Rafael. Her husband has been in Portland and Seattle since his disgrace.

The news of young Boyle's escape from the Gardner sanatorium has aroused the Marin county officers to their utmost vigilance. Sheriff William Taylor received word yesterday afternoon from Belmont of Boyle's escape. The officers of Marin and San Mateo counties are on the watch for the fellow, and the San Francisco police have been informed of the desperate character of the young man.

Boyle recently escaped a jail sentence at Sausalito by pleading insanity when he was charged with burglary. Besides the burglary charge, the young man is under suspicion of having murdered a fisherman and a woman who was found dead on the beach near Montague with their throats cut. While in jail at Sausalito Boyle confessed to Sheriff Taylor that he was the one who created a reign of terror in San Rafael about two years ago.

In Numerous Crimes

He confessed that he held up the National hotel at San Rafael, when Policeman Edwards was shot, and that he assaulted Miss Victoria Armitage on the Wolfe grade, near here, and nearly murdered her with a gaspipe.

Boyle also admitted the dastardly crime of cutting the throats of valuable horses belonging to A. W. Foster. At the time Boyle committed these crimes he was a student at one of the military academies at San Rafael. Later he enlisted in the regular army, and while a soldier, it is alleged, committed terrible acts against the law. The young man is now a drifter and the police and sheriff fear that if he is long at large he will commit fresh crimes.

Parents Fall Out

It is only since young Boyle was on trial at Sausalito for burglary that his development that there is trouble between the father and mother. Now an open rupture is made between the couple and attorney have been engaged by the husband and wife to handle their respective interests in the coming contest.

The Boyle home at San Rafael is one of the most beautifully appointed in Marin. The residence has been the scene of many hospital entertainments. The greater part of Boyle's fortune is invested in Portland and Seattle.

GRADED FREIGHT RATES OPPOSED

Commercial Bodies of Coast Take Step to Fight Action of Railroads

SAN FRANCISCO, May 25.—Commercial organizations throughout the Pacific Coast have organized for the purpose of fighting the proposed action of the railroads in establishing graded rates that would circumscribe their distribution area to a narrow strip along the sea and inland plains for the campaign against the mail route. A meeting for the discussion of the contest plan was held yesterday afternoon in the boardroom of the Chamber of Commerce, which was attended by representatives of local commercial interests and delegates from Sacramento and Los Angeles. The traffic manager of the Los Angeles association was also present.

The action taken was the passage of a set of resolutions condemning the attempt of the railroads to destroy the benefits that will come to the Coast by the opening up of the Panama canal that between the Mississippi valley and the Intermountain territory. It was also decided to call a mass meeting of the boards of directors of all the San Francisco trade associations for Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock in the boardroom of the Chamber of Commerce.

PROPERTY OWNERS MAY BITUMENIZI STREET

Permission was granted by the city council last night under suspension of the rules to property owners along the city streets between San Pablo Avenue and Telegraph and Clay Streets to bitumenize the streets. In view of the fact that the property owners took the initiative in getting the city to improve the streets on suggestion of Councilman Steffens the council will reward the public spirited citizens by placing ornamental spectacles along both sides of the street.

"I think this procedure is but proper," said Councilman Elliot. "It is a good procedure to encourage other property owners to make improvements. With the street bitumenized and the ornamental lights erected this section will be a great contribution. They have manifested the proper spirit and they should have the electors."

The remaining councilman agreed and when the matter of erecting the ornamental lights came up the councilman pledged to grant the request of the property owners.

Presbyterian Church Postpones Proposed Outing Set For Monday

The picnic of the Sabbath School of the Maplewood Presbyterian Church, which was set for Monday next, has been postponed.

This change in the date was made by the pastor of the church when they learned that there was considerable opposition on the part of the Grand Army of the Republic and other patriotic organizations to the use of Memorial Day, especially by church organizations, for purposes of pleasure. They agreed with the pastor that the day, in its ordinary pursuits of life, should be devoted, in some sense at least, in commemorating the deeds of the men who lost their lives in the wars of their country.

WANT DETENTION HOME SEPARATED

Supervisors and Others Favor Keeping Incurrigibles and Truants Apart

That a parental school for incorrigible and truant school children should not be connected with a detention home was the consensus of opinion at a meeting of the Board of Supervisors, Superintendents of schools, Juvenile court judge, district attorney and probation officer, held this afternoon in the new detention home building.

It was agreed that on account of county finance and the desire of the Supervisors to pay off old bills and keep present expenditures down, nothing further should be done along parental school lines till after the fiscal year. It was decided to spend the money saved in this manner and employ to make the detention home a success before contending a move to a permanent location.

The present building, at 413 Nineteenth street, is leased for a year with the privilege of renewal for a like period.

It is expected that the detention home will be opened in June. June 1st is the proposed superintendent and Mrs. Agnes Carlson matron. The probation officers occupy quarters in the ground floor. Judge Ordern will in June begin to hold juvenile court sessions in the detention home in the new building. He is helped in this arrangement by the juvenile court officers.

The detention home proper will be about 15 girls and about 12 boys, provision being made for that number.

Children will be detained here who have formerly been held in the common jails of the county, and of the cities in the county.

Those present at the conference yesterday, which was called by Chairman Edwards of the Rehabilitation Committee, were:

Supervisor Mullins, Superintendents Frick and McWilliams, Attorneys Officer Mervin, Judge F. B. Ogden, Probation Committee Members Hogan, R. Shuey, Edwards and Mrs. K. K. Dillinger, Attorney Donahue and Probation Officer Russ.

GAVE A NEWSBOY $100 BILL.

One of the happiest—seed or saddest—days in Baltimore today is little "Tommy" Gilmore, 12 years old, who was given a one hundred dollar bill last Wednesday by a passenger on a Milton avenue car for a paper. "Tommy" sells papers daily.

Thinking that he had been cheated out of a cent and had received a cigar coupon for the paper, he ran to the first policeman in sight and demanded the passenger's arrest, showing the "coupon."

The officer, seeing the value of the bill, took it from the boy and sent it to police headquarters to await the owner if it should be found that he made a mistake. If a man does not appear and claim the money it will be returned to "Tommy."

"Tommy" is happy when he thinks of possessing that much money; gloom environs him when he thinks that the owner may reappear.—Baltimore News.

BLUSHING BRIDE TO BE MUST GO FOR LICENSE

Got to Face County Clerk as Well as Pastor to Get Married

NEW LAW BECOMES EFFECTIVE JUNE 25

Cupid Deputies May Be Appointed to Serve in County Districts

On and after June 25 it will be necessary for both principals to appear in person before the County Clerk or other authorized deputies and subscribe their names to the marriage license and the personal and statistical particulars that are in each marriage contract to be filed with the Statistics of the California State Board of Health, after which blank has been returned to the clerk by the person performing the ceremony with his signature.

An amendment to the section of the Civil Code relating to the issuance of marriage documents by the County Clerk was made in 1905, making this same duty obligatory upon the high contracting parties, but further provided that no information in the license or the license shall disclose the marriage, so far as optional with this case, it was optional with the County Clerk to waive the prescribed formality where it was inconvenient for both or either of the parties to appear in person.

Old Scheme Changed

This was a great accommodation to persons residing in the more remote parts of the county, in which instances the County Clerk would simply issue the license upon the written application of either or both the contracting parties. It is now required with the blank for the vital statistics, by mail, the proper returns to be made thereon by the persons performing the ceremony, so that the statistics of the county will be correct and makes it absolutely imperative for the County Clerk to secure the signature of both of the contracting parties in person only to the marriage record but to the return covering vital statistics required in the office of the Board of Health.

May Name Delegates

Besides imposing a great amount of additional work upon the County Clerk's office, the new law would work much inconvenience and hardship upon parents of minors more remote than districts of the county who contemplate marriage. If they were compelled to travel this afternoon in the new detention home building, it would be difficult for them to do so.

It was agreed that on account of county finance and the desire of the Supervisors to pay off old bills and keep present expenditures down, nothing further should be done along parental school lines till after the fiscal year. It was decided to spend the money saved in this manner and employ to make the detention home a success before contending a move to a permanent location.

The present building, at 413 Nineteenth street, is leased for a year with the privilege of renewal for a like period.

It is expected that the detention home will be opened in June. June 1st is the proposed superintendent and Mrs. Agnes Carlson matron.

The probation officers occupy quarters in the ground floor. Judge Ordern will in June begin to hold juvenile court sessions in the detention home in the new building.

He is helped in this arrangement by the juvenile court officers.

The detention home proper will be about 15 girls and about 12 boys, provision being made for that number.

Children will be detained here who have formerly been held in the common jails of the county, and of the cities in the county.

Those present at the conference yesterday, which was called by Chairman Edwards of the Rehabilitation Committee, were:

Supervisor Mullins, Superintendents Frick and McWilliams, Attorneys Officer Mervin, Judge F. B. Ogden, Probation Committee Members Hogan, R. Shuey, Edwards and Mrs. K. K. Dillinger, Attorney Donahue and Probation Officer Russ.

WAGNER'S WORK WAS CRITICIZED YEARS AGO

Wagner's opera, "Tannhauser," was produced at Dresden. He was then 32 years old, and the old cry that he was not to be understood of the people began to rise in volume.

As a matter of fact, it was the critics who could not understand him. The people have almost always seized his music because it was dramatic and because, having paid for their seats, and having no axes to grind, they listened with hospitable hearts.

The overture to "Tannhauser," with its plump crowd wailing austere with the nervous Venus music, is a household word to-day. Venus' hands play it. Yet the solicitude of that time could not stomach it. Hauptmann called it "altogether atrocious, incredibly awkward, long, and tedious."

The plot was called "distressing, harassing." Even the great soprano, Madame Devrient, told Wagner: "You write such eccentric stuff; it is hardly possible to sing it."

Today the fault found with this opera is that it is so full of catchy tunes that it lacks dramatic sincerity.

This great and appealing work lay practically dormant for sixteen years after its first production, then it was produced in Paris, only to be withdrawn by the riotous performances.

Leopold Metzner wrote that he "could write something as good after hearing his cat promenade the keyboard."

But in their despatch, the opera proceeded to its enormous success, though it cost him an infinite amount, it brought him in the end, however, after his Dresden production in 1845, for he guaranteed the publishers of its score, and found himself heavily in debt. His reputation for eccentricity was bad, and his manuscripts were returned unopened or marked on the margins with a pencil erudite, as Rupert Hughes, in Smith's Magazine for June,

OAKLAND TIMES

Takes Over Management of Oakland Morning News-paper

Oakland newspaper circles were given a surprise today when it was announced that the Oakland Times had passed into the control of Stuart W. Booth, the well-known newspaper man and dean of the Oakland publicity management. The terms of the transaction were not made public, but Mr. Booth is in absolute control of the Times, of which he will at once assume the general management, and it is understood that he has associated with him some strong backing. For many years the Times has been published by the Enquirer Publishing Company, but this connection has now ceased and henceforth the morning paper will be dissociated from its former direction.

Discussing the matter this morning, Stuart Booth said that he is not prepared at present to say what he intends to do with the paper, but it is evident that there is a very useful field for such a newspaper and that it can be made a strong factor in advancing the progress and best interests of Oak-

What Booth Says

"There is no need to introduce the Times to the people of Oakland," said Booth, "as it has been here for nearly forty years. With San Francisco building up so fast and making such a strenuous bid for the population and trade of Oakland, this city has need of every bit of support it can get to enable it to make the advancement it is entitled to. I don't know I am going to do with the paper on fire and to go out of the good expression given us by our admirable journalistic brethren, the Times has no friends to reward and no enemies to punish." I have acquired it for the purpose of running it for a plain business proposition and I think that during the last eighteen years I have acquired enough experience to do it well, but I am not prepared to go into it at this time, taking a little trip in the journalistic whitewash, Oakland is most rapidly supplied with evening newspapers—better than any other city on the coast. In the morning field there is room for something distinctively Oaklandish and I shall do everything possible to push the good work along."

G. B. Daniels of the Enquirer Publishing Company said he knew nothing of Booth's plan for the future but that he had been negotiating for a long time for the taking over of the Times, and that terms had been reached which were mutually satisfactory. "From now on," said Mr. Daniels, "the Times will be absolutely independent of the Enquirer, and knowing as much of Stuart Booth's ability and experiences as I do, I have no hesitation in predicting he will make a success of his venture."

WISHART'S UNUSUAL OFFER

"It isn't often that druggists have had enough in the medicine put up by other people to be willing to offer to refund the money if it does not cure," said William A. Wishart to a Tribune man who dropped into his store, "but I am glad to sell Dr. Howard's specific for the cure of constipation. It doesn't cost that ball."

"The Dr. Howard Company, in order to get a quick introductory sale, authorizes me to sell them regular fifty cent bottles at half price, 25 cents, and although I have sold a lot of it, and have guaranteed every package, not one has been brought back as unsatisfactory."

"I am still selling the specific at half price, although I cannot tell how long I will be able to do so, and anyone who is subject to constipation, sick headache, diarrhea, liver trouble, indigestion or a general played-out condition, ought to take advantage of this chance." Postpaid on receipt of price, 50 cents. Wishart, 10th and Washington streets.

Will of Oil King Will Be Read to Relatives To-morrow

NEW YORK, May 25.—Henry H. Rogers left more than $100,000,000 behind him. This is the estimate of one of his closest friends and acquaintances. His intimate of the late Standard Oil magnate was acquainted through conversations with Rogers as to the size of his fortune. Rogers knew the amount of his own fortune, and had talked over with this friend the disposition to be made of the many millions after his death.

Owing to the illness of Mrs. Rogers, he followed a strenuous collapse after the funeral of Rogers at Fairhaven Mass., the reading of the will has been postponed until Wednesday afternoon. It will be read at the Rogers home on Wednesday by James M. Beck, the Philadelphia and New York lawyer, who attended to Rogers' personal affairs.

FIREMEN HAVE HARD BATTLE

Fire Sweeps Los Angeles Business Block Destroying Jewelry Store

LOS ANGELES, May 25.—Leaving three weeks ago, ostensibly to see her dying mother in Kansas City, Mrs. Ora-tiva Leitner, the handsome young cashier of a hotel here, recently became the bride in that city yesterday of Milt Baker, a millionaire, who had been a guest at the hotel here many months. Her beauty is so striking a type that Professor Adolph Hirsch, a noted German artist, painted her portrait at "Miss Angelina," a picture that has attracted wide attention.

Baker was a widower. He owns much improved Los Angeles property. He also is interested heavily in Nevada mines.

He is 16 years old and has a son. The bride is twenty years his junior. The romance was not even suspected at the hotel. In fact, the couple seemed to attribute their attraction about equally among the clerks, who suffered a severe shock upon hearing of the marriage.

MOB HANGS NEGRO IN SOUTH

Unmasked Mob Quickly Ends Career of Man Who Assaulted Child

PINEVILLE, Ark., May 25.—Tavett Davis, a negro charged with attempted criminal assault on sixteen-year-old girl here Friday night was taken from the jail at midnight by an unmasked mob of 300 men and hanged to a telephone pole on one of the principal streets. As he was being raised high above the street, the rope broke and the body fell to the ground but was immediately raised again and hung again.

In the fight, fearing violence the sheriff secreted a number of heavily armed deputies in the jail, but those were soon overpowerd. Several prominent men made speeches endeavoring to dissuade the mob, but without effect.

Dr. Dickson's Letters Loving, Nurse Avers
"Would to God I Could Make You Happy; All Sweetness in the World Is Embodied in You"

CINCINNATI, O.—Miss Louis Meltz, a young and pretty-blained nurse, thought her lawyer had written her a few lines from a collection of 200 letters which she declared were written to her by Dr. David L. Dickson, a prominent physician in No. 36 West Thirty-ninth street, New York.

Miss Meltz alleges that she and Dr. Dickson were engaged to marry, and she has directed her lawyers to bring suit against him, alleging breach of promise of marriage. It has been announced that Mrs. Lucius Winchester, the beautiful young widow of a Baltimore banker and Dr. Dickson will be married at Grace Church in New York on May 27.

"I Am a Crazy Fool!"

Mrs. Meltz says that Dr. Dickson wrote to her from New York three months ago, after the death of her pet dog, to say:

"Little Guy—All the sweetness of the world is embodied in you. You know I know this. You are infinitely happier than I am, even though I do make you miserable. You have your work, people love you and you are a success, and you have not David Meltz, like me, and like in the novels, you want the other."

"I Crave a Home"

In this same letter, Miss Meltz says, Dr. Dickson wrote of a woman whom he calls only "Madam." "I am eternally scolded for having lagged here here. Last night we had a fight because I told her people knew things about her in Cincinnati. I also told her what Dr. —— had said on the train from New York last June. Then a few weeks ago it's all she said I am a good dog, not a spiney people's faces when they tell such lies."

— and a dozen other people don't lie, and madam surely knows what she did. I'm not a howling success here. It's terribly hard to begin anywhere and madam fussing all the time. What will become of me? If the Virgin Mary liked me madam would call her an adventurer. I crave a home. Madam is a hard proposition."

"I Am a Lobster"

Later the doctor wrote this, the nurse says:

"I am a lobster. I know it. I have patients, but I would like to have one big, fat woman urge me on and love me, then I would be mine. You are all wrong in my thoughts."

On the eve of a crisis in his life he wrote, she says:

"Louis, Dear: The sweet sunshiny little girl me so much good, all full of your own dear self. I have been back some days now, and each day has been associated with the decision weighed down many standpoints. It's best the die is cast, child. Well, God knows I want to be so good. I shall surely try always, guided by that peerless sweetness you showed me."

Dr. Dickson Says Her Action Is a Surprise

Dr. Dickson was quoted, yesterday, as saying:

"I have no regrets to express and no opinions to change. The parents of Mrs. William H. Baker and Mrs. Dallas Pratt were fully informed of all the circumstances in this connection before they gave their approval to our marriage. I am greatly surprised by the action Mrs. Meltz has taken because only a few days ago she stated that she would do nothing of the kind. Whatever she may do will not affect our plan."

Mr. and Mrs. Dallas Pratt who live at No. 21 West Forty-eighth street, and their family, are well known in the most fashionable society. Their daughter, Miss Katherine Giswold Pratt, and Lucyanna Winchester have married in Grace church here May 6, 1904. A daughter blessed the union before her marriage to Mrs. Giswold Pratt, and Lucyanna Winchester has since been a member of the French Club and was a favorite with the girls. She resides at No. 39 West Forty-sixth street, and has a handsome country place at Flushing. She is a member of the Colonial Dames, the Country Club of Baltimore, the Daughters of Cincinnati, the Daughters of the American Revolution, and the American Association.

Lucyanna Winchester, of the firm of Winchester Bros. & Co., bankers, Baltimore, belonged to many clubs there and was a favorite in society. He and his wife lived in Baltimore until his dental death in August, 1905. In a blinding rainstorm the horse which Mr. Winchester was driving ran away. He was buried from the carriage and killed.

Cissy Became a Thief, the Lure Being Fine Dresses

NEW YORK, May 22.—For the joy of retelling old saws in the streets of New York, N. J., adorned with the fashionable clothes and costly jewelry of her former mistress Narcissa Wims sacrificed a lifelong reputation for honesty and landed in a cell.

Narcissa was the favorite servant in the home of William H. Baker at No. 232 Valley road, Montclair. Diligent, painstaking and scrupulous in everything affecting the comfort of the Baker family, she was regarded with peculiar affection. She was trusted implicitly with every thing of value in the house and members of the Baker family would no more think of doubting her honesty than they did of their sweethearts.

"Louis, Dear: The sweet sunshiny little girl me so much good, all full of your own dear self. I have been back some days now, and each day has been associated with the decision weighed down many standpoints. It's best the die is cast, child. Well, God knows I want to be so good. I shall surely try always, guided by that peerless sweetness you showed me."

Miss Evelyn B. Longman, the sculptor, who lives in a little town, a suburb of Butler, was disclosed. Several women told the Square they thought witches right to the title through her membership in an affiliated society. Miss Longman is, therefore, the first feminine sculptor who comes in grandly as the choice of the electors in our American Academy.

As it is customary upon election to the Academy to exhibit some piece of work, Miss Longman displayed the bust of Colonel Robert Means Thompson, which will be presented to the Annapolis Academy on the occasion of its anniversary next month. The bust stands at the entrance door to the chapel, the Colonel's gift as a memorial to the class of '08.

Though it was on her general merit and not on the modelling of the doors, for which as an anonymous competitor, she won the $15,000 contract, the accomplishment and the youth of the sculptor has won her wide renown. The admiration of the art in the design was something that especially commanded itself to Mr. Thompson.

Miss Longman has never been able to get her work exhibited in Europe, but she has had some success in America. She has exhibited in Boston, New York, Philadelphia, and Chicago, and has received many awards.

Her work has been shown in the National Academy of Design, the Art Institute of Chicago, and the Metropolitan Museum of Art.

She has also exhibited in the Boston Art Association, the Boston Society of Arts, and the Boston Art Club, and has received many awards.

Alleged Nobleman Languishes
in Jail, Not Having $2000

Walter Vretman, who successfully passed a Swedish officer for San Francisco, mingling with the Four Hundred across the bay, but with Oakland's exclusively set as well, was held to answer for trial before the Superior Court by Police Judge Smith this morning on charges of passing a fictitious check on the Bank of California of this city. The check was for $25.

From the statement of deposits made by Vretman in the Metropolis Trust and Savings Bank his first deposit was one of $200. For a few days his deposits amounted to small sums like $25. A little later Vretman began depositing $100 at a time, and finally averaged more than $500 a day.

Graceful at "Touch"

According to the police these large deposits were on the side of robbing Peter to pay Paul. Vretman would touch one of his enemies to pay the other, the borrowed money being larger and larger with each succeeding touch," say the police.

For instance, a sum given by Vretman at the First Trust bank was paid out shortly after the man, Vretman, after paying the bill, would touch the guests who were luckless enough to attend and then make another deposit, the police claim. By means he was enabled to live like a real prince.

This morning Dr. Gaskill testified to cashing the check. It was returned. It was over $2000 and was given to the police. The check was cashed behind closed doors. Despite his claim of being a nobleman he was unable to raise ball and has been in prison ever since. The evidence warranting Judge Smith in holding the defendant, Ball, was fixed at $2000.

W. R. POND, AFTER YEAR
OF TRAVEL IN EUROPE, RETURNS TO OLD HOME

Tells of the Wonders of Spain, Where Much of His Time Was Spent With Friends—Climbs the Alps.

BERKELEY, May 25.—Americans are suffering from the wander lust. This is the opinion of W. R. Pond of Berkeley, who has just returned from a trip through Europe with his family. According to the Berkeley man, London is so crowded just now with American tourists that it is almost impossible to get a room or accommodations unless they are engaged for months in advance.

Pond, accompanied by his wife and son Raymond and daughter Miriam, left Oakland last June and returned only a few days ago, after having done Europe over the beaten path and into some points not on the tourist's itinerary. Most of their time, however, was spent in extended visits in Paris, London and Spain. The latter country seemed to have been chosen for the principal stay of the party.

"I firmly believe," said Pond today, "that Spain is the most attractive country in Europe for the tourist. There was a time when the people of that country were not cordial and did not want American tourists. There is a change now."

Condition Improved

"The railroads are better and the accommodations in general of a higher order, and the people themselves are treating more to the American traveler. The mosque at Cordova is itself a sight, and a pleasure of which one cannot get too much. Of course we saw the country under favorable auspices because of the entertainment given us by an old friend, Dr. H. E. Hylands, who has been in that country for many years. Through him we were permitted to meet most of the big people of the country and participated in many events and saw many sights which are ordinarily shut out from the tourist."

Democratic Monarchs

Pond and his family were in Beyruth when that resort was visited by King Edward of England and King Alfonso of Spain. There two monarchs, he says were among the most democratic of the visitors and as royalty usually travel incognito, officially, they spent their time on the sands of the beach the same as ordinary people.

This year the family of W. R. Pond sought out some spots not taken in on their former trip of the year preceding. They were in most of the European capitals, but not in Russia. While in the Alps Mr. Pond and his son went to the Half-way-house on Mt. Blanc but ventured no farther. All the travelers enjoyed good health on the trip.

Central City, Ky., May 25.—Five children who took part in the commencement exercises of Mrs. B. C. Boyd's school in this city last night, were burned, it is believed, fatally; the audience was changed from an applauding group into a fighting mob and several other children were slightly injured.

Panic was averted by the coolness of the men in the audience, who covered the flaming children with their coats.

The fatally burned: Dorothy Clay, aged eight years, Zelma Clay, aged ten, Louise Marshall, aged twelve, Nellie McGaugh, aged eight, and Anna May Miller, aged six years.

Little Dorothy Clay was the unwilling cause of the catastrophe. The little girls had formed in a circle and had drilled back and forth in their white muslin dresses, the audience gathering enthusiasm as the entertainment progressed. Then the lights were extinguished and an electric candle in the hand of each child flamed out brilliantly.

The aunts, mothers, fathers and playmates in the crowd cheered and applauded so enthusiastically that Dorothy grew frightened and dropped her candle. The flames leaped to the white muslin and in a twinkling five dresses were afire.

Mothers fought to reach their children, veritable small bonfires on the platform. The children, frenzied with the pain, made efforts to climb over the footlights to their relatives. Little Louise Marshall, a screaming rocket, leaped over the footlights and into the lap of her aunt in the audience.

Men in the audience smothered the flaming clothing but in the cases of those named above it is believed to have been too late.

Eldest Boy of Special Agent
Passes Away at Monrovia
From Tuberculosis

SAN FRANCISCO, May 25.—A telegram received today by Detective W. J. Burns, special agent of the District Attorney's office, stated his eldest son, George Burns, died this morning at Monrovia, in Southern California. He was 28 years of age and for some time had been engaged in detective work in connection with that of his father. When former Senator W. E. Schmidt went to collect his appointment, which was reported by young Burns, who later made a search of the past for A. K. Doty, the fugitive editor of the Home Telephone Co., it disclosed his death.

Falling health caused his return to the coast, and recently he was operated on for appendicitis. He failed to improve and was removed to a sanitarium at Monrovia, where he was ill with tuberculosis. Soon after the opening of the California cold weather George Burns was taken to San Francisco, where he was pronounced that the young man was out of town on a vacation. A few weeks later the news of his death was received by W. J. Burns, who goes south this evening.

OTTERBURN, May 25.—John Carpenter, an old soldier, aged 75, and his 12-year-old son, John, a boy of 12, were burned to death in a fire which destroyed the Shaw house at Ellon, 12 miles east of here early today. Mr. Carpenter is employed during the day and left the children with his gran-father, who was caused by the overturning of a lit candle during a storm.

ATLANTA, Ga., May 25.—With delivery of necessities of life stored in several small Georgia towns, the Georgia railroad men's strike for the equality of white men over negroes entered its ninth day today. Not a wheel was moving on the entire length of the road.

The complete blow-up of the railroad is due to any serious acts of violence, but the uncompromising ultimatum from communities through which the road passes that trains will not be allowed to pass, carrying negro or strike-breaking firemen.

MAY KNOW ABOUT CRIME

Believe Murderer Was an Ac-

LOS ANGELES, May 25.—With the additional material to work upon, supplied by the finding yesterday afternoon of Annie Poltera's lunch basket and school girl possessions in a tangled ravine 150 feet from the spot where her dead body was discovered, the scores of officers and detectives as well as private citizens engaged in the search for her slayer, today took up the threads of the mystery with renewed hope of finding the brutal murderer.

Up to 11 o'clock nothing positive had been found to fasten the crime upon any particular individual. The authorities, however, have redoubled their efforts to locate Ben Elliott, the Trojans youth, who for some time, has been wanted on burglary charges in connection with robbery of several houses in that district. Elliott is believed to be in the vicinity and in hiding.

May Have Known Girl

Several features of the crime appear to point to some one who knew the girl as her murderer. The fact that she was slain after her ravishment, would indicate that she knew her assailant and that he sought to hide his first crime by covering it with that of murder.

The fact that the stomach of the slain girl contained freshly eaten food indicates that she may have been enticed from the road and into the woods by some supposed friend and given something to eat as a prelude to the crime.

Father to Join Search

The search for Ben Elliott was the principal feature of the day's work of the officers. More than a score of policemen and detectives were scouring the city all day in an effort to find some trace of the young man. Reports were received of his having been seen by persons who know him, in different parts of the city, but prompt investigation resulted in nothing. Elliott is about 26 years of age and came originally from La Moir, N. D.

His father arrived here from the latter place three days ago and will assist in finding his son, whom he believes to be innocent of any charge of crime.

It is strongly suspicion that Elliott was in the vicinity of Glen Park when the crime was committed. Since he was charged with the Trojans burglaries some weeks ago, he fled his usual haunts and was believed to be hiding in the nearby hills.

HUNTINGTON IN HARMONY WITH HARRIMAN

Comes Home to Have a Good Time and Forget Business Cares

DENIES ALL RUMORS OF ANY DIFFERENCES

Talk About Marriage Magnate Brands as Absurd--Brings Home Paintings

LOS ANGELES, May 25.—"How am I feeling like a two-year-old," said H. E. Huntington, "try me and have grasped his interviewer and wrestled him about the man drawing room, while waiting magnates and Secretary George E. Miles grinned.

He was the first passenger up on the train yesterday and the first to respond to the "first call" for breakfast in the dining car.

And when the train rolled into River station he was pink and prime, ready for anything, but bent on getting to his Los Angeles car, which occupies the old old Shorb mansion, near San Gobin.

"I'm here for a good time," he said, "and if you want to talk to me you will have to get into my machine and go out to the ranch."

"I'm going to work, but the other fellow must take care of the details. I've earned some rest, and I shall devote myself heartily to enjoying life, for it is a beautiful thing--this living, and the fun of it is not in the strife or accomplishment."

"Does it mean that Harriman is to take your place?" I asked. "People here have an idea that you are sentimental about Southern California, and that with you at the head, we have more to expect than if Harriman had the Pacific Electric helm."

"You are right about my having a strong sentiment for this part of the world. I love, and I am glad of it. I could have made a whole lot more money out of this country than I have done if money-making had not been tempered with a real affection for this region."

Work in Harmony

"But about Harriman, any talk about one or the other of us seeking power in these enterprises is all bosh."

"I have seen some of the stories that have been printed here of late, and I know just where they come from. They don't come from Harriman."

"As far as directing the Pacific Electric goes, when I am here I shall have the say and when I am away Mr. Harriman will have the say, just as has always been the case."

"I have said this so often that I am weary of reiterating it, but it is the truth that there is absolutely no difference in the views of Harriman and myself. I want to build a road he never has offered any objection, and if he wishes an extension I never have objected. Our ideas are in perfect harmony, and this is shown by the work we have done."

By the time the train had reached the Arden station and Mr. Huntington found his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Edward E. Huntington, and his grandfather waiting for him.

He was greeted as "grandpa" and the name seemed absurd reverence for the "grandpa" pranced about like the youngest fellow there and soon hiked away in his car for the Pacific Electric building.

Denies Marriage Talk

He conferred for a few minutes with W. E. Peck, and W. G. Korchinski looked over his rooms in the Jonathan Club, where he left his grips, and then jumped into his car and sped up Spring street, who he plucked up his architect, Myron Hunt, and Colonel George Patton, the chief of his real estate department and off we rolled over Huntington boulevard for the ranch.

That old yarn about the probable marriage to M. C. P. Huntington was referred to and he sharply contradicted it in a few words.

"This is the story of differences with Harriman lob up just so often," he said. "About once a year I am asked about those subjects and have to deny them again and again. Why do reporters trouble themselves and me about such absurdities?"

Mr. Huntington brings with him many hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of art treasures collected abroad. Among them is the famous painting by George Romney, "The Hosley Children," for which he paid $40,000.

SCHOOL DAY ROMANCE BRINGS ABOUT WEDDING

TRENTON, N. J., May 25.—Miss Kate Gravett of this city and E. K. Gibson of New York, an adopted daughter of an engineer behind whom is a school romance of years ago when they were boy and girl in Highstown. The young man went West to make his fortune and while he was away she was expected and it was not until a short time ago that he amassed a comfortable fortune. During all the intervening years the couple had been in continual touch and now the wedding is to take place early in June.

AT 33 HE TAKES AS BRIDE WOMAN OF 42

SANTA ROSA, May 25.—As soon as possible yesterday Francis M. Godrich and Mrs. Sam Wilcox of San Francisco called at the office of County Clerk Fred L. Wright and secured a marriage license. They were married by Justice Atkinson. Godrich gave his age as 33 and that of his bride as 42. The marriage was a surprise to relatives and friends of the couple.

BIG CROWD SEES FIGHT PICTURES

Burns-Johnson Bout in Australia Proves Drawing Card at the Broadway

PEACHES AT $1.25, CANTALOUPE TOO

Former Come From Belgium and the Latter From London

CHICAGO, May 25.—Peaches at $1.25 apiece. Rather steep, but they can't be had for less this time of year, because they come from Belgium, ready done up in cotton and packed in refrigerators, lest they be injured in transit.

Their value failed to be evident, and one man remarked: "They ought to be put up at 50¢."

The pictures are remarkably clear. There has never been a better set taken, for the fight in its minute details can be followed through.

Evening Post: "The pictures are excellent, and a number of scenes of the fighters preparing for the great contest and of the crowds entering the stadium. The interior view with 64,000 people packing it, is also an interesting feature of the reels. A lecturer tells how the fight occurred and gives warning of any particular interesting feature to come."

Fighting Mixup

Sandwiched along with the pictures is the farce, "Upside Down," a foolish thing that keeps the house roaring. The fun starts through a mixup of a dog and a baby, in which four couples, to say nothing of a tenured doctor, get hopelessly tangled until close to the final curtain.

Al T. Deikinson does some particularly good work as the quaint old chap, Christopher Blizard. Miss Pissella Knowles, as the charming briske who wanted a pet dog to cuddle, and thereby started all the domestic troubles, quickly won the house, to say nothing of a host of flowers tossed over the footlights. Miss Anita Alton, Miss George Woodthorpe, Roy Clements and Al Hallot were particularly good in their parts.

As there has been a great demand to see the show at 10:30 p. m. the management has decided to give a matinee daily. The matinee will begin at 2 and the evening performance at 8 o'clock sharp.

CONSTRUCTS WONDERFUL NEW MULTIPLE DRILL

The Judson Iron Works of Emeryville has just completed an automatic multiple drill press, constructed under the supervision of L. D. Rols, master mechanic. The machine is the only one of its kind on the Pacific Coast, being so cleverly designed as to allow fourteen holes to be drilled at the same time. The greatest width of any material which can be drilled is four feet. Using metal three-eighths of an inch thick, one thousand holes can be drilled in one hour and seven hundred, using three-quarter metal.

Everything works automatically. The feed is arranged by a mechanism which raises the table holding the work, the chucks containing the drills remaining stationary. This table may also be moved sideways lengthwise, automatically according to what is desired. As most of the bearings are ball bearing, there is practically no noise when the machine is running.

Rols states that although there are many multiple drill presses in the United States, he considers his machine the best of its kind and would be willing to prove its statement in any manner. He has been employed by the Judson Iron Works for twenty-five years, and is one of the best mechanics in the city.

SECOND LADY OF LAND DOES OWN MARKETING

WASHINGTON, May 25.—The Vice-Presidential establishment under the present regime is proving quite as popular socially as the White House. The Franklin family did the honors so graciously.

Miss Sherman is fully as democratic as her husband. She goes to the Central market on occasions to do her own household buying, and few women go there who know better what they are buying. Who could be better qualified to inspect the meats, fruits and vegetables she buys and the approach of a function at the Sherman home will be noted for the Vice-President's wife to appear at the reception very business-like, selecting the articles for her table.

Miss Sherman paid all her own dinner and luncheon in detail, and is eager to be assured of getting just what she wants to serve her guests herself.

REFUSES TO PUT LAW IN WAY OF CUSSING

MADISON, Wis., May 25.—The Indiana legislature right of a citizen of Wisconsin to use profanity under sufficient provocation is not to be abrogated by the Legislature with the consent of Governor Pinchback. "The Govt. of Indiana is a fanatical man, but having lived in the Kickapoo Valley for a quarter of a century, he realizes that a person may sometimes be so circumstanced that it is practically impossible for him to refrain from indulging in a few sulphurous oaths."

Believing as he does, the Governor vetoed the bill prohibiting swearing in any public place under a penalty of $25 fine or thirty days in jail, both fine and imprisonment.

Indiana Legis., etc., 160, meets on Thursday night in L. O. O. F. hall, First Street west and Eleventh Avenue. State Managers: W. M. Brown and Fred Allen. Allen were present at the last meeting and many interesting remarks were made for the good of the order.

PEACHES AT $1.25, CANTALOUPE TOO

Former Come From Belgium and the Latter From London

CHICAGO, May 25.—Peaches at $1.25 apiece. Rather steep, but they can't be had for less this time of year, because they come from Belgium, ready done up in cotton and packed in refrigerators, lest they be injured in transit.

Their value failed to be evident, and one man remarked: "They ought to be put up at 50¢."

The pictures are remarkably clear. There has never been a better set taken, for the fight in its minute details can be followed through.

Evening Post: "The pictures are excellent, and a number of scenes of the fighters preparing for the great contest and of the crowds entering the stadium. The interior view with 64,000 people packing it, is also an interesting feature of the reels. A lecturer tells how the fight occurred and gives warning of any particular interesting feature to come."

HUNTINGTON IN HARMONY WITH HARRIMAN

Come Home to Have a Good Time and Forget Business Cares

DENIES ALL RUMORS OF ANY DIFFERENCES

Talk About Marriage Magnate Brings Absurd--Brings Home Paintings

LOS ANGELES, May 25.—"How am I? Fine," he is a two-year-old," said J. P. Huntington, "try me," and he grins his interview and wrestled him about the Pullman drawing room, while waiting magnates and Secretary George E. Miles grinned.

He was the first passenger up on the train yesterday and the first to respond to the "first call for breakfast in the dining car."

And when the train rolled into River station, was pink and prime, ready for anything, but bent on getting to his Los Angeles ranch, which occupies the site of the old Sherburn mansion, near San Gabriel.

"I'm late for a good time," he said, "and if you want to talk to me you will have to get into my machine and go out to the ranch."

"I'm ready to work, but the other fellow may take care of the details. I've earned some rest, and I shall devote myself heartily to enjoying life, for it is a beautiful thing—this living, and all the fun of it is not in the strife of accomplishing."

"Does that mean that Harriman is to take your place?" I asked. "People here have an idea that you are sentimental about Southern California, and that with you at the head, we have more to expect than if Harriman had the Pacific Electric line."

"You are right, about my having a strong sentiment for this part of the world, I have, and I am glad of it. I could have made a whole lot more money out of this country than I have done if money-making had not been tempered with a real affection for this region."

Work in Harmony

"But about Harriman, any talk about one or the other in seeking power in these enterprises is all foolish."

"I have seen some of the stories that have been printed here of late, and I know just where they come from. They don't come from Harriman."

"As far as directing the Pacific Electric goes when I am not I shall have the say and when I am away Mr. Harriman will have the say, just as has always been the case."

"It has held this so often that I am weary of retelling it, but it is the truth that there is absolutely no difference in the views of Harriman and myself. If I want to build a road he never has offered an objection, and if he wishes an extension I never have objected. Our ideas are in perfect harmony, and this is shown by the work we have done."

By the time the train had reached the Arco station and Mr. Huntington found his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Howard E. Huntington, and his grandchild waiting for him.

He was greeted as "grandpa" and the name seemed absurd reverence, for the "grandpa" pranced about like the youngest fellow there and soon hiked away in his car for the Pacific Electric building.

Denies Marriage Talk

He conferred for a few minutes with W. G. Dunn and W. G. Kerckhoff, looked over his rooms in the Jonathan Club, where he left his traps, and then jumped into his car and sped up Spring street, where he picked up his architect, Myron Hunt, and Colonel George Patton, the chief of his real estate department and off we rolled over Huntington boulevard for the ranch.

That o'd yard about the probable marriage to Mrs. C. F. Huntington was reported to, and he sharply contradicted it in toto.

"The talk and the story of differences with Harriman boil up just so often," he said. "About once a year I am asked about these subjects and have to deny them again and again. Why do reporters trouble themselves and me about such absurdities?"

Mr. Huntington brings with him many hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of art treasures collected abroad. Among them is the famous painting by George Romney, "The Florsley Children," for which he paid $40,000.

SCHOOL DAY ROMANCE BRINGS ABOUT WEDDING

TRINITY, N. J., May 25.—Miss Kate Graves of this city and J. K. Gilmore, of California, have announced their engagement, behind which is a schoolboy romance of years ago when they were boy and girl in Hastings-on-Hudson, young man went West to make his fortune, but wealth was more tardy than was expected and it was not until shot down again and again. Why do reporters trouble themselves and me about such absurdities?"

Mr. Huntington brings with him many hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of art treasures collected abroad. Among them is the famous painting by George Romney, "The Florsley Children," for which he paid $40,000.

SANTA ROSA, May 25.—As soon as possible yesterday Francis M. Goodrich and Mrs. Susan Wilson of San Francisco and the office of County Clerk Fred L. Wright and secured a marriage license. They were married by Justice Alanson. Goodrich gave his age as 33 and that of his bride as 42. The marriage was a surprise to relatives and friends of the couple.

Burns-Johnson Bout in Australia Proves Drawing Card at the Broadway

PEACHES AT $1.25, CANTALOUPE TOO

Former Come From Belgium and the Latter From London

When Manager Guy Smith of the Broadway Theater arranged for his big double bill this week, he knew pretty well what the theater-goers wanted. They packed his house last night to see a double attraction, the Burns-Johnson fight pictures and a farce, "Upside Down."

The pictures of the fight are remarkably clear. There has never been a better taken after the fight in minutest detail can be followed throughout.

Proceeding the fight by rounds there are shown a number of scenes of the fighters preparing for the great contest and of the crowd entering the stadium. The interior view of 4,000 people packing it is also an interesting feature of the reels. A lecturer tells how the fight occurred and gives warning of any particular interesting feature to come.

FIGHT MIXUP

Surprised along with the pictures is the farce, "Upside Down," a foolish thing that keeps the house roaring. The fun all starts through a collision of a dog and a baby, in which four couples, saying nothing of a learned doctor, get hopelessly tangled until close to the final curtain.

Al T. Dickinson does some particularly good work as the quaint old chap Christopher Blizard. Miss Priscilla Knowles, as the charming bride who wanted a net to cuddle, and thereby started all domestic troubles quickly, won the house by night of a heap of flowers tossed over the footlights. Miss Anita Allon, Miss Georgia Woodthorpe, Roy Clements and Al Hall were particularly good in their parts.

As there has been a great demand to see the double bill at the Broadway, the management has decided to give a matinee daily. The matinee will begin at 3 o'clock sharp.

CONSTRUCTS WONDERFUL NEW MULTIPLE DRILL

The Dresden Iron Works of Emeryville has just completed an automatic multiple drill press, constructed under the supervision of L. D. Rols, master mechanic. The machine is to only one of its kind on the Pacific Coast being so cleverly constructed as to allow four operations to be drilled at a time. The greatest width of any material which can be drilled is four feet. Using metal three-eighths of an inch thick, one thousand holes can be drilled in one hour, and seven hundred, using three-quarter inch.

Everything works automatically. The machine is a self-feeding mechanism which raises the table holding the work, the chucks containing the drills and driving stationary. This table may also be moved sideways or lengthwise, automatically, according to what is desired. As most of the bearings are ball bearing, there is practically no noise when the machine is running.

Rols stated that although there are many multiple drill presses in the market, this is the only one of its kind on the Pacific Coast being so cleverly constructed as to allow four operations to be drilled at a time.

Mrs. Sherman is fully as domineering as her husband. She goes to the big restaurant on Mondays to discuss the chat of the kitchen and would be willing to go there who know better what she wants or how to buy. She makes a perfect selection of the meats, fruits and vegetables she buys, and the approach of a function at the Sherman home will be the signal for the vice-president's wife to appear at the mansion, very dressed, selecting the napkins for her table.

Mrs. Sherman plans all her own dinners and lunches in detail, and in order to be as neat or gay as just what she wants to serve she buys it herself.

CIGAR-MAKERS OPPOSE TARIFF

Send Protest Over Proposed Reduction in Schedule to Senator Perkins

Senator Perkins has been in communication with the cigar makers of this city in the matter of the admission of cigars to this country, free from duty of about $1.50 million. The bill, which this end in view, has already passed the lower house of congress and is yet to come before the senate, and the cigar makers of this country are united in the attempt to have the same amended so that the clause admitting manufactured cigars from the islands free will be stricken out.

American manufacturers of cigars say that it is impossible for cigar makers in this country to compete with those in the Philippines. There they say, labor and material are cheaper.

28,000 Workers

The local union of Cigar Makers, No. 255, is one of 400 similar organizations in the country, which represent 28,000 men, and with the others has protested against the passage of the bill.

The election of the local union of cigar makers, will take place June 7, the nominees being as follows: President, John McRae; and Claude Lemon; vice president, Claude Lemon; secretary and treasurer, J. Eno; financial secretary, G. R. Farnham; sergeant-at-arms, Jesse Grant; delegates to the Central Labor Council, Louis Salomon, G. R. Farnham.

Labor Day Parade

The Building Trades Council will meet tonight and one of the subjects which will be discussed will be that of holding a parade on Labor Day. The Central Labor Council has already decided to parades on that day, and desires to have the co-operation of the Building Trades Council in the matter.

At last night's meeting of the Central Labor Council, the project of the Union Workers' Orphanage at San Lorenzo was endorsed. A renewed energy was put into the efforts to finance the institution in a manner which will place it on a stable basis.

To Talk Unionism

Next Tuesday night at the meeting of the Young Men's League of the First Congregational Church, A. M. Thompson, business agent of the Central Labor Council and A. W. Setton of the Typographical Union will expound the doctrine of union labor.

The Rail Clerks' Union has just paid a check of $175 to the survivors of a lady member of the organization who recently died, and to whom, during her lifetime, the organization paid a liberal weekly sum, which is one of the benefits of the association.

At the next meeting of the union, fourteen candidates will be initiated.

At its meeting last night, the Central Labor Council endorsed the scale of prices of the Iron, Steel and Tin Workers' Union.

This is the same schedule which has been in force for the last two years. It is the one which has been agreed to by both employer and employee. The present year will expire about the middle of June.

NAT GOODWIN IN 'THE EASTERNER'

He and Edna Goodrich Were Well Received at the Macdonough Last Night

Nat Goodwin and Edna Goodrich opened the Macdonough Theater last night and were warmly welcomed by their many Oakland friends and admirers. The play which they gave was "Macdonough," in which they were "Macdonough" and "Washington" and "Wardens." It is located in California, doing a fine bit of work in the tragicomedy of an eastern lawyer who seeks the heroine in marriage and who also plans to ruin a valley of settlers whose home he has been given by the hero of the play, John Warden.

7 Clever Play

Mr. Goodwin has appeared to better advantage in other plays. In "The Ambassador" he did not live up to the expectations for the display of those talents which have placed him in the first ranks of American actors. It is a clever play, but the audience probably found it to be an exaggeration in many of the scenes. Whatever there is in the part of John Warden has been made by Mr. Goodwin to be a good reflection of his personality into the character.

Miss Goodrich surprised her Oakland friends by the quality of acting. She is still as beautiful as ever. The real comedy of the evening came with the little pieces which emphasized the little peccadilloes which the hero and his wife are still on their honeymoon.

Good Company

The supertite cast was good, especially the singing of Edward W. Koenig and Fred Sargent. The girls, however, in one act, as like Robbins, having in no meantime been killed off by the villain, Miss Anna Herkis, a former Oscar winner, had the small part of Marie Carter yet in that she showed the talents which both Mr. and Mrs. Goodwin proclaim will make her famous.

On Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings and Saturday matinee, Mr. Goodwin and his wife will present the farcical comedy "The Ambassador," in which Goodwin is a better play for those talents which have made him famous.

RICH POOR PAY, ASSERTS MODISTE

Catherine Cole Tells Court Society Women Are Slow in Settling Accounts

SAN FRANCISCO, May 25.—That society women are poor pay is the conclusion of Miss Catherine Cole, when she alredy to court yesterday during the progress of her damage suit against the United Railroads. Miss Cole declared she is suffering nervous breakdown as the result of her experience in a crowded trolley car when the fuse blew out and she was trampled on by the excited passengers.

Among other things the modiste claims the ruination of a $70 gown, a "team of a hat," $16 worth—and well other things.

"They are completely ruined," she stated yesterday. "And in my business money comes hard. These society women don't pay up for their fine feathers the way you would think they do."

"I didn't mind it so much before the accident but now my nerves are shattered and I can't stand the suspense."

"I really believe," said Miss Cole, directed a lingering glance at the judge, "I'll have to give up the business. I can make nice gowns but the strain of getting the money for them is something awful. I said to my mother only last night I'd have to cut it out."

Miss Sturtevant has announced that her accompanist on the piano for the evening will be Mrs. Sue Chamberlin, a popular young pianist of Berkeley. The big Piedmont art gallery will be brilliantly illuminated for the promenade which will precede the performance of military band music, which is being rushed in the construction of seats to accommodate 2,000 and the musicians are busy installing the scheme by which the amphitheater will be gorgeously lighted and the pyrotechnic display set off.

As only a limited number of seats have been reserved there has already been manifested a desire to get them early and many have already been disposed of at Sherman Clay & Co.'s store in Oakland and at the Sign of the Bear in Berkeley, where they are to obtain.

Since the first announcement was made that Chief Musician Armand Putz, in command of the largest and most distinguished band in the American army, had donated the services of his forty-five musicians for a splendid military concert preliminary to the observance of Memorial Day, interest has been very much enhanced by the news of his preparation for one of his most spectacular and thrilling numbers, the great descriptive battle piece, "The Ambuscade." The Third Artillery Band aroused tremendous enthusiasm in its rendition of this composition at the Hearst Greek Theater in Berkeley last summer, but on next Saturday evening it will be much more adequately equipped for the performance, having been joined by the band of the 10th Cavalry and will have the assistance of a bugle corps and a firing squad from the Coast Artillery, stationed at the Presidio.

Miss Sturtevant to Sing

But not all the music of the evening will be patriotic. Much of it will be classical, while a number of the finest popular successes will be rendered. Miss Lydia Sturtevant, the well known contralto, who will be the vocal soloist of the evening, has announced that her two numbers will be Schubert's power, "The Onlooker," and Tchaikovsky's beautiful "Don Juan's Serenade." As her contribution to the patriotic part of the program she will sing "The Star Spangled Banner," accompanied by the full soldier band.

Detectives Can't See How Rob-

at Once

SAN FRANCISCO, May 25.—Detectives Regan and O'Connell, who have been detailed to investigate the mysterious disappearance of Mrs. Sears, have reported to Captain of Detectives Anderson this morning that their work on the case had led to new results. According to the slugs, the woman claims to have been held up and robbed "in four different places at the same time, at 10 p. m. and 11 p. m. Mrs. Sears and Brian, fifth and Franklin, and also near her home at 64 Bryant street.

The officers also claim that the story told by the victim to her husband, who in turn reported to the police, does not sound well. Mrs. Sears, it is claimed, is said to have been robbed of a purse holding $2 and a diamond watch. The details are unknown, why the thieves did not also take Mrs. Sears' valuable gold necklace and heavy gold ornaments.

One other question is whether Regan and O'Connell, if it is thought appropriate, will inform their victim of the robbery.

MOTHER'S FRIEND

Is an ordeal which all women approach with dread, for nothing compares to the pain of child-birth. The thought of the suffering in store for her robs the expectant mother of pleasant anticipations.

CONDUCTOR ACCUSED OF BOUNCING PASSENGER

SAN FRANCISCO, May 25.—Sylvan Feldt, of 244 Piedmont avenue, cabinet maker, was painfully injured yesterday afternoon when, according to his wife, he was thrown from a west-bound Ingleside car, between Fourth and Fifth on Mission street, by the conductor, who, after ejecting the passenger, continued on his run.

When Patrolman F. Nobmann assisted Feldt to his feet, the latter asked to be sent home, refusing to return to the car. He was admitted to the City Hospital. His right ankle appeared to be broken. Feldt also refused to inform Nobmann as to the cause of his ejection from the car.

Gold necklace and heavy gold ornaments. One other question is whether Regan and O'Connell, if it is thought appropriate, will inform their victim of the robbery.

SULLIVAN AND WHITNEY MEET AT DREAMLAND RINK TONIGHT

Nelson and Hyland Are Being Offered by Promoter Coffroth at Bargain Prices; Britt Coming to Make Match.

By EDDIE SMITH.

TONIGHT at the Dreamland Pavilion in San Francisco thirty-six rounds of boxing will be staged—that is the management has no advertised the bill and close figuring on the abilities of the men who are to furnish the sport will not warrant denying that there will be thirty-six rounds for the chance of knock-outs are not too bright.

The main event Mike (Twink) Sullivan and Kyle Whitney are to go the twenty rounds and Whitney has been made a favorite in the little betting that has been done.

The report was that the fight evening, however, that the condition of the white man was not of the best and that he was suffering from a very nasty cut over the eye. After Mike had been in training for a few days he was walking in the garden at Riley Shannon's place and in the dark ran into a large rose bush. One of the thorns caught the fighter just above the eye and he has been unable to heal it with the short time he had to get into condition. Whitney is reported in good condition and his manager is showing that he has plenty of confidence in the black's ability by laying his money on his charge with a free hand.

Expect Sullivan to Win

With the exception of a few experts generally expect that Sullivan will win and do so easily for it is their opinion that Sullivan will jab the fighting out of the colored man early in the game with his stiff left jabs. As Sullivan is clever on the defensive and cautious when the aggressor, it is figured that the colored man will have little chance to land a knockout out and as Sullivan is anything but a knocker-out the fans will no doubt have the chance to witness twenty rounds of boxing.

In this special event, George Bennett will clash with the popular Jimmy Reilly. Both the Oakland fans know that young men well and have seen them work to their satisfaction the chief interest in the contests of tonight will be centered on the Benagan-Bennet ten-round contest. In the first preliminary Dick Hart will meet Charlie Anster of Los Angeles. Eddie Hanlon will referee the main events.

Gallery Seat $1.00

The price of admission to boxing contests is a little or no better to the regular fight fan who would rather miss his meal than his place in a certain location of the arena or pavilion, but it does make a difference to the fan who goes only once in awhile. To avoid any argument as to the price for the Hyland-Nelson contest Promoter Coffroth has set the gallery at $1 which can be figured only one way and that is at below prices. This is the first time in several years that the fans have had an opportunity to witness the Battler in action for less than $2 general admission and many times when the clubs were charging that price the men had to bent were much easier than the one he is to meet next Saturday.

Nelson is to meet a man at these bargain prices of admission who will enter the ring full of confidence that he can come on the winner and he will find that he has a man facing him who has spent five or six months studying a method to beat him and who has sacrificed many dollars in other matches offered him to get this one crack at the champion whom he believes he can beat.

Hyland Attracting Crowds

Hyland is attracting such crowds to the Alameda gymnasium where he is training that his manager announced yesterday that from now on the Cornishman will do his bouts on another platform. And Hyland is not used to the open-air fighting this will prove valuable training as well as an accommodation to the fans for it will acquaint the eye with the glare of the sun and give him an idea of the position of the ring "to fight for to keep old sol out of them."

TAKE DOUBLE-HEADER.
The East Oakland team won a double-header Sunday, defeating the Monarchs 4 to 5, and the Claremonts 5 to 0. The features of the game were the playing of the Don Morris first baseman, the hitting of O'Brien, and the Don Morris' White would like to get a good third baseman. Beall Leading Hitters With .409 Average

Cameron, Best of Local Stickers, Batting .278 at Present

With the advance of the baseball season averages are beginning to drop and many of last year's stickers are already below their usual percentage. Beall of Los Angeles, one of those who played in California, and Oregon, while still in California, is still putting the ball with a vengeance, leading the regulars with a record of .409 for 21 games played. McCleod comes in second with .397.

Of the local players Cameron leads with .278. In the early part of the year big Dan had a hard time keeping even with the rest of the hits, but now he goes by but that he does not get his customary safe swats. Willie Hogan has picked up again and is now batting .265. Tom Lewis is also traveling in the .263 crowd. McCay's batting average has jumped from .231 to .241. However, Murphy has taken a sharp decline in the last few weeks, a .219 clip, and at a .224 pace as was his former habit. Van Hartman is just one point below Murphy and Carroll is .220.

WILBUR WALKER PRAISES SEATTLE

Declares Exposition Will Be One of the Most Beautiful Ever Formed

Seattle, May 25, 1909.
EDITOR: TRIBUNE.—The city of Seattle, one hundred miles north of Oakland, is ready for the opening of the Pacific Coast. The A-Y-P exposition is due to open June 1st and it will be perfectly ready on that date. The California building is a veritable biv of industry and more men would be busy if they could be obtained. The architect of the Golden State is one of the finest in the country and his fair and will reflect credit on the State commission and the various county commissions by whom it was prepared.

Alameda County is well to the front as usual and our factories are well represented. A detailed list of exhibits will be set it later.

Beautiful Site

The exposition site is one of the most beautiful in the United States. Located between two magnificent fresh water bodies, Lake Union and Lake Washington, it comprises 280 acres of beautiful rolling land, and is improved with fine buildings in clearing for the buildings many trees, four feet and over in diameter were cut down. The building erected by the United States Government is a beautiful building as ever adorned an exposition anywhere. The fair is held on the grounds of the State University of Washington, an institution containing eight hundred students, and some of the buildings will remain permanently after the close of the exposition. The trains from California are crowded and usually run in two sections, California is called as "land of sunshine, fruit, and flowers." And Washington might be called the "Land of flowers and forests." They have the fruit and flowers all right, but the sunshine is not often in evidence, at least so we Californians think although we are assured by the natives that it is an unusual season.

Hospitalite People

One thing that an Oaklander is minded of the difference of locality is by mind of the day. Daylight begins at 4 a. m. and twilight ceases at about 8:30 p. m. In the winter this condition is reversed and the days are very short. The people here are busy but are very hospitable and courteous. They have an efficient Chamber of Commerce and are well established. The rivalry between the two cities of the Sound still continues and local pride is strong. Seattle seems to be a well governed, well paved and well lighted city. Prices of rents and necessities of life are higher than those paid in Oakland, but the cost of living is lower. It is expected that the fair will be well attended. No Californian who will make a mistake to visit the A-Y-P Exposition. The round trip ticket price is low, the train service is excellent and the Fair is one of the most beautiful and best appointed I have ever seen. If any one is disappointed in their visit it will be a great surprise to the Alameda County Exposition Commission.

Secretary, Merchants Exchange, Oakland.

RESCUES TWO FROM BURNING AUTOMOBILE

NEW YORK, May 25.—John Hanan, a wealthy shoe manufacturer, and his wife, were rescued in a sheltering manner from their burning automobile in front of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company last night, stopped being one in a long train of automobiles, when the car behind plunged forward and shattered the gasoline tank of the Italian machine. The gasoline caught fire, spreading flames throughout the street.

While the fire was shooting up an about the burning car, a passerby grabbed the door and took it. Hanan, with Hanan's assistance, lifted him across the lake of fire. The automobile was almost consumed.

Grand Barbecue and Prize Contest

$1000 Given Away in Prizes

Sunday, May 30th

At Beautiful Melrose Heights

MELROSE, CALIF.

On the highest part of Melrose Heights overlooking the Scenic Boulevard and a splendid landscape and marine view, we are going to have a big free barbecue and prize contest.

A half dozen of the choicest beef cattle to be had will be furnished and served by the California Co-operative Meat Company. Plenty of hot coffee and bread will be served with the meat. There will be good music and a general good time.

No shacks are allowed on Melrose Heights, no saloons, no Mongolians or Africans; no business houses on residence streets; large lots and wide streets; 90 and 100 feet between the houses.

Melrose Heights has splendid transportation facilities. It is only one block from the Tract to the East 14th-street car line, where the cars run every 5 minutes; 15 minutes to Oakland with a 5-cent fare; Southern Pacific local three blocks from the Tract, with 20-minute service to San Francisco.

A fine new grammar school is being erected on the Tract and the John C. Fremont High School is one block away.

The Scenic Boulevard passes through the center of the Tract. The splendid climate of Melrose Heights, together with the restrictions, and many other advantages, make this an ideal reside ice suburb.

1000 Guessing Contest

How long will it take to drive our team of burros from our Oakland Broadway Office to the top of Melrose Heights? WHY Jewel Gas Ranges ARE THE BEST

The Jewel 2-piece burner cap is removable and is easily cleaned with a case-knife—you don't have to pick any holes with toothpick nor match-taking shears. The toothpick or match breaking off in the hole and stopping up the burner. This one thing will determine you to buy the Chicago Jewel.

The illustration below shows a Chicago Jewel burner cap removed—how easy it is to clean on the bottom of the cooking utensil instead of lifting the little cap in spots.

The Chicago Jewel gas range is the only all-steel gas range on the market. It is absolutely guaranteed not to warp.

The Chicago Jewel Gas Range comes in ebony finish—this is appreciated by the housewife, for she has no difficulty to do—merely take the cap off and wipe your stove is like new.

So confident are we that the Chicago Jewel Gas Range is the best that braids of smoke and money can buy that we sell them only under an absolute guarantee; If they are not everything we claim them to be, your money will be cheerfully refunded.

HOLD GROOM ON BIGAMY CHARGE

Bride Who Jilted One to Marry
Another Loses Husband to Police

HONOLULU, May 25.—R. M. Baker, alias R. W. Baker, proved too impudent and frequent in his marital experiences and now his latest victim had to suffer severe punishment and change of heart. She experienced difficulty in coming to Honolulu from San Francisco on the steamer Alameda. The police arrested Baker in a charge of bigamy on cable instructions from the United States marshal at Chicago.

Baker arrived on the 21st instant. On May 12, the bride was Mrs. Eva E. Wallace of San Francisco, who was en route to the Islands, presumably to marry Charles Howare, recently of San Francisco, but now connected with the Honolulu firm of L. B. Kerr & Co. But on the way down the fluctuating Baker won over Mrs. Wallace and when the help arrived here, the supposed fiancée of the would-be man gave her waiting lover the slip and married Baker. The moonlight nights on the Pacific had been officiated.

Police Step In

The Baker's lived supply since their arrival on the Island until the police gave Captain a let.

It is reported from San Francisco that Baker had trouble there over a dishonored check for $15, passed upon Milton Landier of the Hub clothing company. Baker represented himself as being a traveling automobile agent, but the police said he was on his way to the Orient. He was then than turned into custody. According to advice he received from Chicago an automobile agent named R. M. Baker married a Chicago girl there about March 1.

BOSTON, May 26.—Miss Eleanor Sears, the noted Bad Girl society woman and athlete, in the course of a plot to kidnap her, is not engaged to Alfred Vanderbilt, heir to the Vanderbilt fortune.

"Of course, I never won any swimming matches with either men or women at Newport last summer."

"Of course, I get divorced when so many ridiculous stories are printed about me."

"Of course, I am angry."
